SUMMARY

I'm a Fullstack Developer with over 2 years of experience, that specializes on using the MERN stack (MongoDB, Express Js, React Js, Node Js) in building and managing Web Applications, enabling me to handle both frontend and backend development with ease. I have successfully delivered several projects, ranging from e-commerce apps to booking software and integrating third-party service. I am seeking for an opportunity to collaborate with forward-thinking teams and contribute to projects that challenge my abilities and expand my expertise.
